Message

It gives me immense pleasure to know that the Centre for Women's Studies & Development, Himachal Pradesh University, is bringing out its activity report for session 2016-2017. Gender equality in University is priority of administration and more women are part of governance in Himachal Pradesh University. I also appreciate the initiative take by Centre in Publishing Book "Dynamics of Gender Inequality in Society" conducting gender survey of University in 2016 and for conducting research on sensitive issue "Declining Child Sex Ratio in Himachal Pradesh: Issues & Challenges".

It is also praiseworthy that the Centre is organizing workshops and programmes for community upliftment and also recognizing and motivating those individuals and organizations who are working for women cause. I place on record my deep appreciation of the commendable work done by this Centre of our University.

I wish the Centre success in its future endeavour.

From the Editor's Desk...

Education is considered to be a very important tool of Women empowerment. Education can gear the capability of women to question patriarchy. People force their thinking, their boundaries on women, they tell how to dress, how to behave, whom you can meet and where you can go. Education should be geared that women should not live in the shadows of people judgement. They should make their own choices in the light of their wisdom. Centre for Women's Studies and Development of Himachal Pradesh University is also working on the same issue. Centre this year has recognized the work of those organizations who are fighting for women cause & rewarded them with women achievers on behalf of Centre. Centre is also working with Gender Champions of Himachal Pradesh University to ensure dignity of women in society. Centre organized workshops, conducted Research on Declining child sex Ratio, published Book on "Dimensions of Gender inequality in Society", conducted Gender survey of University (2016) & also organized gender sensitization campaign in community. Activities performed by Centre are published in this activity report.

Joint efforts needed to improve child sex ratio: Experts

Experts Need Society

Academics and scholars have called for more joint efforts between the government and citizens to improve the child sex ratio. They said that such efforts can only be successful if everyone contributes. The state government has announced a plantation drive to improve the environment and reduce pollution. Environmentalists have welcomed the initiative but stressed that it must be a collective effort.

The society needs to look at a girl as a daughter, sister, wife and so on, to address the problem of daughter deficit society. For this, we need behavioral change in the society. While addressing the gathering, HPU Vice-Chancellor ADR Bajpai said that the collaboration between the HPU and the Health, Education and Welfare Department would help address the problem in the state. Prof. Harsh Malik, member of the workshop-coordinator of the WSD Department, said that the suggestions and studies presented at the workshop by scholars and experts would be used to frame a strategy to improve the child sex ratio. He said that the child sex ratio in Kangra, Hamirpur, Una and Kinnow, despite higher literacy levels, is still low.
