Programme Project Report (PPR) of Master of Arts (Journalism and Mass Communication)

International Centre for Distance Education and Oper Learning H.P. University, Shimla-5

PROGRAMME PROJECT REPORT - Master of Arts (Journalism and Mass Communication) i) Programme's Mission and Objectives

Mission and Objectives: The Master of Arts (Journalism and Mass Communication) programme was started way back in 2001 through ICDEOL with the mission to teach and train the youth who intend to join Print and Electronic Media who do not get opportunity to study in regular mode due to various reasons. Keeping in view to the requirement of the media industry, our endeavour has always been to prepare good media professionals and media educators. Keeping in view the demand from the learners and requirement of media industry, the university this new two years Master's Degree with nomenclature Master of Arts Journalism and Mass Communication andscraped the old course of MMC. The new Master of Arts (Journalism and Mass Communication) course has endeavourer to meet the new challenges of media industry.

ii) Relevance of the Programme with HEI'S Mission and Goals

The planning of this programme through ODL mode is compatible with the programme already run by the Department of Journalism and Mass Communication, HP University, Shimla through regular mode. The syllabus is duly approved by the different academic bodies i.e. Departmental Council, Board of Studies, Faculty of Social Sciences, Academic Council and Executive Council. The Master of Arts (Journalism and Mass Communication) syllabi has been prepared in such a way that the learner could be equipped with theoretical and practical knowledge of the subjects. After completing the course the learner could get opportunity in the industry or academics. The Master of Arts (Journalism and Mass Communication) programme is very much relevant to HEI's mission and goals.

iii) Nature of Prospective Target Group of Learners

Since the target group of learners of ODL mode of ICDEOL comprise the students from remote and far flung areas of this hill State, particularly the youth aspiring to become media professional/ Media Educator, in-service people who intend to improve their professional qualification, women, students with disabilities, SC and ST, students from low income group, and minorities, the fee structure and curriculum has been prepared according to their needs.

iv) Appropriateness of Programme to be conducted in Open and Distance Learning Mode to acquire Specific Skills and Competence

Students who complete their UG programme in any discipline or UG in Journalism and Mass Communication, and are interested to take up their further study in the field of Journalism and Mass Communication through ODL mode, ICDEOL provides a platform to enhance their skills and competence to serve the society in a better way along with their up-gradation in the field of Journalism and Mass Communication. Besides their professional/ academic developments, this programme also reflects their occupational standards as they get jobs/ promotions through this programme.

v) Instructional Design

The duration of Master of Arts (Journalism and Mass Communication) programme is two years divided in four semesters. The learners will have opportunity to attend classes at ICDEOL smart class rooms as well as through online PCP as per the prescribed schedule. The PCP for this course will be of seven days. They will be provided practical training by subject experts with industrial training at various media houses. This training will include print, TV, Radio, Advertisement and Public Relations etc.

Curriculum Design: The detailed instructions regarding the curriculum, duration of the programme, faculty, supporting staff etc. will be provided to the learners through the ICDEOL website/ hand book of information. The detailed Syllabus of MMC is attached as Annexure – 1. The semester-wise scheme is as under:

Detailed Syllabus: The detail syllabus of Master of Arts (Journalism and MassCommunication) is as under:
