Report on Online Guest Lecture on Soft Skills

On 26th October 2024, the Department of Library and Information Science at Himachal Pradesh University conducted an enriching online guest lecture on Soft Skills, delivered by Dr. Neetu Raina from the School of Indian and Foreign Languages, Garden City University, Bangalore. The session was held via Google Meet from 12:00 PM to 1:00 PM and was attended by 43 participants, including students from the B.Lib.I.Sc and M.Lib.I.Sc programs, guest faculty members, the Chairman, and office staff.

Dr. Neetu Raina engaged the participants with insights on the importance of soft skills in personal and professional growth, emphasizing communication, teamwork, adaptability, and time management. She also shared a slide presentation, which visually supported her explanations and allowed students to better understand the relevance and application of soft skills in various professional settings.

The lecture was interactive, with students actively participating and asking questions. Dr. Neetu Raina's expert guidance provided valuable perspectives on how these skills enhance employability and success in the Library and Information Science field.
