(NAAC Accredited 'A' Grade University)
OFFICE OF THE DEAN STUDENTS' WELFARE

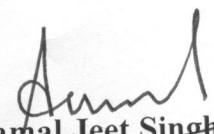

No: HPU/DSW/SI-19-

Dated: 26th March, 2019

NOTICE

The Hon'ble High Court of Himachal Pradesh has passed the order in case No. 477/2005 dated 12.03.2007 and 01.06.2011 titled "Ms. Anjana Chauhan vs. State of Himachal Pradesh and Others" that the students may raise their legitimate demands by means of peaceful protest but they will ensure that such protests are peaceful and did not in any manner disturb the students who are pursuing their studies. The Hon'ble Court has also ordered that no slogans shall be raised within 200 mtrs yard of the Library blocks, hostels and administrative block and there should be no use of any loud speakers. Further, there should be no sticking of posters, banners and hoardings on the walls of the University campus except the places earmarked by the University. None of the protesters shall enter any administrative block of the University, especially the statutory offices of the University including Vice-Chancellor, Controller of Examinations, Dean of Studies, Dean Students' Welfare, Chief Warden and their staff and only 4-5 persons will be allowed to meet the statutory officers at any time to discuss/raise their legitimate demands and the use of mobile cameras will be strictly prohibited in statutory offices. Hence, the students/students organisations should strictly follow the above orders in letter and spirit and desist from any activities which violate the said orders. If violation of these orders of the Hon'ble Court is seen in the campus, the University will be bound to take stern action as per rules.

Besides this, it has also been observed that most of the students bear badges of different students' organization in the campus which is totally illegal as the University has given no permission for such activities. All the students and various students' organizations are therefore, emphasized upon to stop the bearing of such badges in the campus as well in the classrooms immediately. However, they are directed to bear their departmental Identity Cards and produce the same as and when required for identification.
